TOPICS

Cybertraps for Educators

A timely and up-to-date presentation designed to inform teachers about the legal and social risks arising from the use and misuse of digital devices and to provide practical advice on how to minimize those risks.

Cybertraps for Administrators and School Boards

A presentation covering current trends in school district liability and litigation arising out of student and teacher cybertraps. This presentation includes detailed discussions of policies and procedures that can help minimize legal exposure.

Cybertraps for the Young

A presentation designed to help teachers and administrators better understand student use and misuse of technology. Particular attention is paid in this presentation to the issues of cyberbullying, cyberharassment, sexting, and the physical and emotional risks of excessive screen time.

Cyberethics for Educators: Pre-Certification to Retirement

A presentation designed to illustrate the need for cyberethics training at all levels of the teaching profession, from undergraduate and pre-certification programs through retirement. This lecture includes a historical overview of ethical and moral systems, the recent efforts to promote a Model Code of Educator Ethics, and the ethical challenges that teachers most commonly confront in (and out of) their classrooms today. The presentation concludes with specific suggestions for promoting cyberethics at each stage of the teaching profession.

Teaching Digital Citizenship to Digital Natives

A presentation on K-12 curriculum initiatives to introduce and reinforce concepts of digital citizenship and online safety for the current generation of digital natives. Leading concepts include personal privacy, understanding and respecting boundaries, the emotional and physical consequences of cyberbullying and cyberharassment, and the enduring consequences of digital behavior.

ABOUT FREDERICK

Frederick Lane graduated from Amherst College in 1985 with a degree in American Studies and Classics. He earned his J.D. from Boston College Law School in 1988 and then spent two years clerking for the Hon. Frank H. Freedman, Chief Judge of the U.S. District Court (D. Mass.). After moving to Vermont in 1990, Lane worked briefly in private practice before beginning his writing career. During his time in Vermont, Lane served for ten years on the Burlington School Board, including two years as Chair of the Board. Lane has lectured on cybersafety, privacy, and law to audiences across the United States and in Canada and China. Most recently, he has been hired as a subject matter expert in cybertechnology and cyberethics by both the University of Phoenix and Educational Testing Service. Lane currently resides in Brooklyn, NY with his wife, Dr. Amy Werbel.

“ PRAISE

I was unaware of all of the programs out there that could potentially be used by staff/students. Great info!

Frederick Lane is a great speaker and it's critical for all of us to keep as up to date with this as possible.

Wish we had more time to see all of Fred's presentation on Cybertraps ... it was fascinating.

The presentation was powerful. Recommend that speaker continues his presentation with NSBA [National School Board Association].

One of the best presentations!

Incredible presentation. I had no idea of the depth of this issue.

Extremely timely. Please bring him back and provide a much larger space. Excellent presentation and made clear connections to school boards.
